Who are Advanced Security Protection?

Advanced Security Protection are a risk management and security consultancy with offices in both Dubai, London & Paris. Our management team has over 60 years of operational security management and expertise, gained through International policing, corporate security and specialist security consulting.

The company prides itself in delivering only the very best in quality and service provision, with an emphasis on client expectation and satisfaction. In support of this, Advanced Security Protection is a Government registered company in Dubai and all UK operatives are certified competent with the British Security Industry Authority (SIA).

We are conscious that in today's global marketplace, security is an important and vital element of any business. However, its integration must be seamless and without disruption to normal business practices. Therefore, our objective is to mitigate risks and threats with viable, common sense, practical solutions; with a focus on 'minimal impact' to the clients organisation.

Executive Protection & Handling

In today's Global environments, many executives and 'high-worth' individuals feel the need to seek executive protection (close protection) services to mitigate potential risks to themselves, their business and their key personnel. Advanced Security Protection offers services ranging from a one-man detail, to a full protection team. We understand the need for discretion and have provided close protection to many senior corporate clients, Diplomats and 'A-list' celebrities. Likewise, many of our clients seek the help of an 'executive handling and cultural liaison officer' to assist them when visiting countries with a different cultural background.

Our emphasis is not only on the physical security presence, but also on pre-deployment and advance preparation. To effect quality executive protection it is imperative that forward planning takes place to ensure smooth travel transitions and to identify any potential risks before the arrival of the executive.

At Advanced Security Protection, we also provide international safe handling, protection and escorts of 'High Value Asset'. We work very closely with cash-in-transit providers to ensure smooth transition and are happy to work with your existing provider. We currently provided this service extensively to the jewelry industry in Northern Europe.
